FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LOCAL BUSINESS LEADERS VOLUNTEER TO TEACH AT MARKETPLACE FOR KIDS

Devils Lake, ND (February 19, 2010) – Local business leaders are giving back to the community as they volunteer their time to instruct students at the Marketplace for Kids Education Day at Lake Region State College on Monday, March 15, 2010.

“Marketplace for Kids is a unique educational program designed to develop young entrepreneurs,” said Brenda Langerud, Chair of the Region 3 Marketplace for Kids Advisory Leadership Team. “Marketplace for Kids demonstrates the special role of youth in improving the economic future of our state. What better way to learn than from the business leaders themselves?”

The program targets grades 3 through middle school but is open to all ages. Marketplace for Kids provides a variety of classes and education activities to help young people develop their business skills enhance personal development, and explore career options.

The Marketplace for Kids Education Day will feature a wide selection of classes including Blast off with Biofuels, Friends of the Forest, KidWind, Build a Bot, How Drugs Operate in the Body, and You’ve Got the Dollars, Have You Got the Sense? These classes and many more are made possible thanks to instructors and volunteers from local organizations and businesses like NDSU-ND Forest Service, MSU Rural Crime and Justice, ND Department of Career and Technical Education, Cenex, ND Small Business Development Center, ND Highway Patrol, and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in addition to instructors from Lake Region State College.

The Marketplace for Kids program encourages young people to apply their innovative thinking by creating projects that demonstrate innovation, entrepreneurship, critical thinking, and creative problem solving skills. These projects are on display during the Education Day and open for public viewing from 11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. If students have any questions or need help with their projects, feel free to contact Marketplace for Kids at 888-384-8410 or by email at Marketplace@btinet.net. Helpful hints for projects are also available at www.MarketplaceForKids.org.

ND Department of Career and Technical Education Director Wayne Kutzer serves on the Board of Directors. “The future of North Dakota’s economy – and the future of our nation’s economy – lies in the entrepreneurial spirit of our children,” said Kutzer. “Marketplace for Kids encourages young people to develop their own ideas, to talk about them, and present them to other people. It nurtures their creativity and provides an environment that enables them to grow.”

More than 600 people participated in the 2009 Region 3 Education Day. Students, teachers, parents, and community leaders interested in more information or becoming involved in the Marketplace for Kids Education Day should contact Brenda Langerud at 701-662-7027 or Marketplace for Kids at 888-384-8410 (toll free). Information is available online at www.MarketplaceForKids.org.
